Prevention of HIV- and Sexually-Transmitted-Infections (STI) for clients of Sexworkers

Jingle: 'Your Service Call'

Background:

A great part of the transmission of HIV and STIs in the world is due to men who don't use a condom during sexual interaction abroad or with sexworkers. Men, who don't use condoms in sexual contacts they pay for, probably don't use them in private contacts either. So they do endanger not only themselves and the sexworker, but also unaware thirds. The consequent use of condoms in sexual activities beyond an existing relationship protects against HIV/AIDS, Syphilis, Hepatitis, Herpes genitalis, Gonorrhoea, HPV (genital warts), Chlamydia and Trichomoniasis. Undetected STIs enhance the risk of HIV-infection. In addition, the risk of an infection with Syphilis or Hepatitis B is much higher than the risk of HIV-infection. Sexworkers complain that more and more of their clients demand sexual contacts without condoms. Many men falsely believe that oral sexual contacts could not contract sexual diseases (... and that they are the only one a sexworker makes an exception for). Without a condom every contact to a sexworker bears serious risks.

The Jingle

The conceptual development of this jingle was evoked by both sexworkers and social workers of the sexworker-counseling "Kassandra" and the AIDS/ STI-counseling at public health department of Nuremberg. The prevention-project 'Your Service Call' uses newspaper advertisements and the internet to approach men who seek contacts to sexworkers at relevant pages. When calling the phone-number people hear a radio play, where a client tries to convince a sexworker to services without using a condom. The woman is arguing charmingly and cleverly, to make clear that this is out of bounds. At the end the clients get the information that this is a campaign of Nuremberg healthcare department and that counseling and examination is provided anonymously there. Slogans like: 'There is no embarrassment to human sex' or 'talk to us, don't wait till it burns' seek for confidence in this service. Through street work the campaign was announced to sexworkers and found a broad approval. Many women passed calling cards, saying 'Here is your Service Call', to clients who asked for

Hintergründe:

An der weltweiten Verbreitung von HIV/STD haben Kondomverweigerer unter Sextouristen und Prostitutionskunden großen Anteil. Männer, die bei bezahlten Sexkontakten keine Kondome benutzen, tun dies wahrscheinlich bei privatem Sex auch nicht. Somit gefährden sie nicht nur sich selbst und Prostituierte, sondern auch unwissende Dritte.

Konsequente Kondombenutzung außerhalb fester Partnerschaften schützt vor HIV/AIDS, Syphilis, Hepatitis, Herpes genitalis, Gonorrhöe, Feigwarzen, Trichomoniasis und Chlamydieninfektionen etc.. Einige STD verlaufen ohne auffällige Symptome, können aber unbehandelt schwere Spätfolgen verursachen. Unentdeckte STD erhöhen das Risiko, sich zusätzlich mit HIV zu infizieren, da sie eine Eintrittspforte für weitere Krankheitserreger eröffnen. Syphilis und Hepatitis B sind zudem wesentlich ansteckender als HIV.

Prostituierten beklagen, dass die Nachfrage nach ungeschützten Kontakten steigt. Viele Männer unterliegen dem Irrglauben, dass sie durch Oralverkehr nicht angesteckt werden könnten (und dass sie der einzige wären, mit dem eine Prostituierte eine „Ausnahme“ macht...). Ohne Kondom wird der Kontakt zu Prostituierten zum Hochrisikokontakt. An der Konzeptentwicklung haben Prostituierte mitgearbeitet. Die Präventionsaktion „IHRE Servicenummer „0911 - 81 52 999“ wendet sich mit Inseraten auf einschlägigen Seiten an Männer, die Kontakt zu Prostituierten suchen.

Durch Streetwork wurde die Aktion bei Prostituierten bekannt gemacht und fand breite Zustimmung. Prostituierte geben Visitenkarten mit der „Servicenummer“ und der Aufschrift „tabulos?“ an Kunden weiter, die nach ungeschützten Praktiken fragen.

Dialogue between a sex worker and a client

Italic: the sex worker
Underlined: the client

Start of the dialogue: ringringring (telephone)

Hello!

Hi! Do you also do things without a condom?

Oh, no! I don't do it. This is nowadays too dangerous... You must be kidding!

Why? It is said that especially you, the professional ones, are the healthy ones, aren't you?

Yes, that's right, and it is because we only work with condoms! How should I know with whom you have been screwing lately? Perhaps you already caught something... If you don't want to use a condom with me, that could mean you often play risky games...

But I am clean, I can assure you!

(Laugh) You are a funny guy! How can I know that? And don't act the fool. You know it has nothing to do with cleanliness, that you cannot get rid of illnesses with soap and water! Or perhaps you are one of those that have a health certificate in the pocket?!? No and no, there is no deal. It's with condom or nothing!

OK, but I am healthy, I know that. Can't you make an exception just once, just for me?

One exception? How can you be sure how many "exceptions" I have been making lately? And that by doing so, I didn't catch anything?

But at least you could do a blow job without a condom, nothing can happen that way...

Well, that is what you think but it is wrong. Various diseases can be caught orally. Thanks, I do not need that!

And if I would paid you a bit more? What about that?

As if! If I catch AIDS or any other disease, a little extra money won't help me either! However, leave it. I can see already we are not getting anywhere.

AIDS? You mean HIV? But this almost doesn't exist anymore today. At least one doesn't hear anything about it.

But this doesn't mean it does not exist anymore! People get infected every day, exactly those types of people like you who think that it doesn't exist anymore. Listen, if you are tired of living, just go and check out all my colleagues until you perhaps find one that is crazy enough... but then you must be prepared to know that you are probably not the first one with whom she does it "without". And don't forget that you cannot see if she is HIV-positive or not, or if she has any other disease like gonorrhoea or not. Tell me, now I am a bit curious: Are you married? Imagine you take some illness home to your wife. That would be some sort of hell at home, wouldn't it?

OK! OK! Great! Now I am relieved. I was hoping you would tell me that. The whole time it was just a test. If you had accepted to do it without a condom, I would have rejected it, because I also do not want to take any risk. But now we can relax and talk about all the nice things we can do together... with condoms, of course!!!
